Storage Solutions

Sooner or later, your small business will need more space for data storage. Information in the form of e-mails, documents, presentations, databases, graphics, audio files and spreadsheets, is the lifeblood of most companies, and the applications that run and protect your business require a lot of disk space. TISS offers you the most effective and cost-efficient storage solutions especially customized for your business needs.

Servers Solutions

TISS provide servers for all purposes, from entry level workgroup servers to multiple server installations with failover.

All TISS server solutions are designed to suit the client's current business and plans for growth. All servers we install have hard drive redundancy in the form of mirrored drives or a RAID array, and every system has a server operating system and a backup solution, we don't believe in providing a server in name only!

We use the latest virtualization technologies to make sure you get the most bang for your buck!

TISS provide only branded servers with full warranties from our business partner vendors – HPE, DELL EMC, IBM, Cisco and Fujitsu.

VOIP Solutions

Voice over Internet protocol (VoIP) is a communications technology in which voice calls, as well as video and data, are transmitted over the internet, instead of the publicly switched telephone network (PSTN).

Instead of your old copper phone network, VoIP runs on your broadband connection. There's no on-site equipment or infrastructure to maintain. You can be up and running quickly, able to focus more resources on running your business instead of managing your phone system. TISS delivers the best VOIP solutions for smarter business communications.

Wireless Network Solutions

Wireless networks are vital to enterprise operations; from simple internal and external communications, to highly sector-specific applications. Effective operation of this service is essential for the broader efficiency of the organization and your end user experience. A reliable wireless service, when part of a wider mobility device management service, will both enhance reputation and grow revenue. TISS solutions provide access to a new generation of mobility application tools accessed by wireless technologies and platforms.

Super Computing Solutions

Supercomputing efficiently solves extremely complex or data intensive problems by concentrating the processing power of multiple, parallel computers. The term "supercomputing" refers to the processing of massively complex or data-laden problems using the concentrated compute resources of multiple computer systems working in parallel (i.e. a "supercomputer"). Supercomputing involves a system working at the maximum potential performance of any computer, typically measured in Petaflops. Sample use cases include genomics, astronomical calculations, and so forth. TISS delivers customized supercomputing solutions for your industry.

Network Security Solutions

Networking and security solutions consists of your entire data transport infrastructure; whether voice by telephone or voice mailbox, data between you and your PC, your printer, your server, Internet or even the security of your buildings, with images from your surveillance cameras or the alarms on your doors and windows, the network is the vascular system of your company. It feeds each machine, from the most sophisticated to the simplest. It therefore warrants all your attention. TISS implements and secures your networking infrastructure providing a safe and reliable environment for your data communication.

Information Security solutions

Information security (also known as InfoSec) ensures that both physical and digital data is protected from unauthorized access, use, disclosure, disruption, modification, inspection, recording or destruction. Information security differs from cybersecurity in that InfoSec aims to keep data in any form secure, whereas cybersecurity protects only digital data. If your business is starting to develop a security program, information security is where you should first begin, as it is the foundation for data security. TISS helps you secure your most important asset, your business data.

CCTV SYSTEMS

A camera that puts a world of possibilities at your fingertips literally!!

CCTV stands for Closed Circuit Television. It's a system with surveillance cameras that send the signals to a surveillance room to be monitored for security purposes and to generate evidence of a crime. There are different types of CCTV systems, such as analog and IP. TISS provides the surveillance solutions you need to secure your premises.
